

Minneapolis Gun Club Jackpot September 28, 2019

A very nice Fall day to be outside shooting. Lots of sunshine, temps in the mid 60's with a breeze coming in from the north. Just enough to make the bird rise as you shot.

Scott Steffen was high gun today and he did it the hard way....missed a couple singles and ran the handicap. The only one to run the handicap. Nice shooting Scott. Gary Pederson was barking at his heels with a 47. Way to go Gary.

Some of the chatter going around the table today was about the "snow birds" planning their departure. Seems people are leaving earlier each year, and can you blame them?? So, on October 19th, were going to have a Snow Bird Potluck. It will be a "bring a dish to pass" and MGC will come up with a main dish of some sort. Mark Cameron is really good at putting a "main" dish together. We'll keep you posted.
